FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND COMMUNICATION

We are a public university centre of the University of Cádiz located on the Jerez Campus made up of a committed group of specialists in social sciences and communication. Through our teaching, research and resource management we provide tertiary training for the professionals and citizens of the future, as well as conducting research to generate socio-economic and technological wealth in the surrounding area.

Our students enjoy internships and international mobility programmes all over the world.

Welcome

Welcome to our faculty! Apart from our excellent campus facilities, we also offer a whole range of academic and cultural activities. You can also enjoy the city of Jerez and its culture and the wealth of opportunities offered by our province in the company of your fellow students.
